

International Conference for the Advanced Professional Practice of Clinical Social Work

"Show Me the Money: Impact of the $ Crisis on the Clinical Process"

Québec City, Canada ▪ June 23-27, 2010

ICAPP is the oldest Clinical Social Work organization in the country, having originally been created to promote private practice among Clinical Social Workers. Now open to all Clinical Social Workers, whether in agency or private practice, or academia, ICAPP is an international organization that sponsors annual Conferences all over the world on relevant and timely clinical topics.

All of us, whether in agency, private practice or academia, have had to cope with the effects of the financial downturn with our clients and with our own financial survival as clinicians. In depressed economic times, when families undergo increased stress psychotherapy is often one of the first things to go. Even the insured who have to make a small co-payment may decide to end or postpone therapy worried that like a small leak weekly expenditures on "non-essentials" would accelerate depletion of their resources. How this phenomenon has affected the clinical process, our clients, our own approaches and how we have managed it will be the subject our conference explores.

ICAPP Conferences have a unique and intimate format, unlike any other conferences: papers are sent to attendees prior to the Conference, so that the Conference is devoted to discussion. Meetings are held in the mornings, so that the remainder of the day can be spent recreating or sight-seeing. Life-long professional contacts are made.

June 2010's conference will be held in Québec at the world-class and historic Fairmont Le Chateau Frontenac. Perched on Cap Diamant, Le Chateau offers a commanding view of the mighty St. Lawrence River. With its castle-like architecture and turrets Le Chateau offers luxury accommodations and is within easy walking distance of the quaint shops and historic sites of Old Québec, the most charmingly European city in North America.
